ACTION REQUIRED - PLEASE READ

In August, AGCS requested that parents make a determination as to whether they would want to attend in-person instruction in a hybrid format or stay online via the virtual academy program. This was originally sent out to parents when we had hoped to open the school year with a hybrid schedule.

Since the school year did not start with in-person instruction as we had hoped, we are adjusting these AGCVA timelines to better meet the conditions of our current opening plans, the metrics we are utilizing to base our decisions on, and to better inform our planning efforts.

Today, an educational intentions form has been published to the ParentPortal.

THIS FORM IS REPLACING ALL PREVIOUSLY SUBMITTED AGCVA ENROLLMENT INTENTIONS.

This learning intentions form contains two questions that must be filled out by ALL families for ALL students. The form will ask what mode of instruction you desire for your child (in-person/hybrid or remote/AGCVA) and what you believe your PRIMARY mode of transportation to school would be (bus or self-provided) if/when we return to school. The question about transportation has no impact on provided transportation. We are asking this to better plan for the potential volume of vehicles coming through the carline.

Parents/students (K-12) who choose the online/virtual academy learning model would now stay online through January 22, 2021 (end of a semester). It is at this time that a transition back to in-person learning could occur.

It is important to note that the number of students electing to stay online will be another data point impacting our reopening decisions related to the extent to which we can exercise safe social distancing throughout the day. We ask that if you previously enrolled in AGCVA that you consider continuing to do so.

Equally important, we will be conducting ongoing county data evaluations which will determine if we remain in a hybrid learning format once we return to school. There is the potential for the school to transition back and forth between hybrid and remote learning. If this fluidity and uncertainty does not work for your current family situation, we encourage you to choose to stay online/remote for consistency.

This form must be completed by the end of the day on Wednesday, September 23.

Thank you,

AGCS Administration
